Introduction

All praise is due to Allaah. We praise Him and seek for His assistance. We seek His refuge from the evil of our own souls and from our misdeeds. No one can mislead whoever Allaah guides and no one can guide whoever Allaah causes to go astray.

To proceed, the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam is indeed, the leader of mankind. This is an Islaamic reality upon which all Muslims agree. And this agreement is a great blessing for this Ummah. In this, all praise and favour belong to Allaah.

There is no consideration for the opinion of some who deviated and believed that some imams are greater than the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam in terms of knowledge and other qualities.¹ There are scholars who are capable of reinterpreting or proving the falsity of all the narrations recorded in these books.

Clarity of the status of the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam, and that he is the owner of the Great Intercession, the visited Fountain and the exalted position in this world and in the Hereafter, are facts that no one can deny.

The blessings of the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam extended to the members of his household and his companions, May Allaah be pleased with all of them.

Therefore, members of the Prophet's Household enjoy great status. There are many Qur'aanic verses and numerous hadeeths that supported this. These evidences include the mention of those among them who kept the company of the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam as they include the mention of their offspring. They also explain their virtues and excellence.

Equally, all available evidences concerning the merits of the companions of the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam apply, in the first degree, to members of his Household who had the honour of being among his Companions.

In the first issue of these series, Companionship of the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam was discussed. In the following pages, I am going to discuss the mutual compassion that existed among these Companions. For, we should never feel tired of talking about the merits and virtues of being a Companion of Allaah's Messenger sallallaahu alayhi wasallam, and the fact that through believing in and keeping the company of this Blessed Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam, the title "Companion" is earned.

Differences in their status and positions in blissful Paradise depend on their actions and their participation in Jihaad with the leader of the Messengers. So are the differences in the ranks of the Emigrants [al-Muhaajiroon] and the Helpers [al-Ansaar] among them, and those who came after them. Allaah promised all of them great rewards. Allaah, the Exalted says,

“And what is the matter with you that you spend not in the Cause of Allaah? And to Allaah belongs the heritage of the heavens and the earth. Not equal among you are those who spent and fought before the conquering (of Makkah, with those among you who did so later). Such are higher in degree than those who spent and fought afterwards. But to all Allaah has promised the best (reward). And Allaah is All-Aware of what you do.”¹

All of the Prophet’s companions have their merits and positions. We need to understand the importance of their companionship, which is a status in itself. We need to realize that their degrees are in accordance with their deeds. The Prophet’s Companions are of categories: The earliest ones are the highest in degree, these are followed by those Companions who have the honour of being the Prophet’s relatives – these are the pure members of his household. May Allaah’s peace be upon them, and may He be pleased with them. They have the combined honour of being his Companions and having kinship with him. But their ranks shall be in accordance with their righteous deeds.

Dear reader, seeking to know causes of dissention among the Ummah and finding solutions to them are a recommended Islaamic goal. The matter I am going to discuss here is a great issue whose impacts really trouble the Ummah. I am therefore going to discuss only mutual compassion that existed among the Companions of the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam – those of them who are members of his household and those who are not. In spite of conflicts that took place among the Companions, they remained compassionate with one another. This is the reality, though the story-tellers might ignore it and some historian might fail to notice it.

This reality shall remain clear, destroying the myths and imaginations of story-tellers which the people of desires and political motives and the enemies seized upon to achieve their goals and create disunity and rancour among the Muslims.

A Sincere Call

We are calling upon researchers, history writers of the Ummah, the advocates of unity, and those who talk about the danger and impacts of globalization and the necessity of unity in confronting these; we are calling upon all those who are keen on the well-being of this Ummah: Why are we carelessly stirring up historical issues that create only negative impacts and generate enmity? Are we doing this to win the support of the masses or because of a blind imitation or to earn a material gain?

You will be surprised to find many writers and researchers who spend a lot of time and efforts working on historical or ideological issues that are based upon spurious narrations, and mere desires. There are even some among them who falsely believe that they have performed an excellent feat and arrived at scientific facts, without knowing that all they achieved through their researches was nothing more than fragmentation of the Ummah. And when you ask them of the results of their works and efforts you will not get a useful answer. The best in situation among them will tell you that the research was for academic purpose and nothing more!! Where then is the scientific foundation that he based his research upon?!

In the first part of this series in which we discussed the essence of companionship, we talked about the perfect harmony that existed between the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam and his noble companions and that it was an obligation of the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam to educate and purify those who believed in him. These are the unlettered people whom Allaah honoured with belief in Him Messenger, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam and with being his Companions. Allaah says,

“He it is Who sent among the unlettered ones a Messenger (Muhammad (peace be upon him)) from among themselves, reciting to them His Verses, purifying them (from the filth of disbelief and polytheism), and teaching them the Book (this Qur’aan, Islaamic laws and Islaamic jurisprudence) and Al-Hikmah (As-Sunnah: legal ways, orders, acts of worship of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him)) And verily, they had been before in manifest error.”¹

These companions are those whom the Messenger of mercy and guidance nurtured, purified and educated.

We also discussed about the harmony that existed between the Messenger, the Command and his army; and the Messenger, the Model and those who learned from him; and the Messenger, the Neighbour and those who lived near him and with him; and the Messenger, the Leader and those who were under his authority.

We discussed about this harmony in the first essay. You can call it first chapter if you like.²

Dear reader, I know that you have no doubt that the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam excellently and meticulously performed the obligation of conveying the Message, and purifying and teaching his companions. The results of this purification are those commendable qualities that became part of the character of his Companions.

It is enough an honour that these companions are the best community ever evolved for mankind. Allaah says,

“You (true believers in Islaamic Monotheism, and real followers of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) and his Sunnah) are the best of peoples ever raised up for mankind."¹

Ponder over Allaah's word, "raised up". Who raised them up and gave them this status? Compare this with the saying of Allaah,

*"Thus We have made you (true Muslims - real believers of Islaamic Monotheism, true followers of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) and his Sunnah (legal ways)) a just (and the best) nation, that you be witnesses over mankind and the Messenger (Muhammad (peace be upon him)) be a witness over you."*²

The verses in which Allaah described them and praised them are many. Some of their distinguished deeds and verses relating to that have been discussed in the earlier essay, so there is no need to repeat them here.

Some of the qualities of the Prophet's companions

Dear reader, remember that theirs is a unique generation that outshined other generations with distinct qualities. They attained the honour of being the Companions of Allaah's Messenger, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam. He nurtured, taught and refined them. He fought the disbelievers with their support, and they were the ones who helped him.

Let us have a keen look at one of their characteristics that needs to be studied, elucidated and given prominence, and that Muslims need to know regardless of their factions and groups.

Do you know what that characteristic is? It is 'Compassion'.

Why do we talk about this quality?

Dear reader, have you ever reflected on the secret of this noble quality? You will definitely find many reasons why this quality should be discussed. But, I'm going to tell you some of the reasons in brief.

One: Because of the characteristic itself and the great meanings it carries, and because of the fact that many Qur'aanic verses and hadeeths mention it. And, above all, our Lord, Glorified and Exalted is He, is the Most-Beneficent, Most-Merciful.

Allaah says, while describing the beloved Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam:

"Verily, there has come unto you a Messenger (Muhammad (peace be upon him)) from amongst yourselves (i.e. whom you know well). It grieves him that you should receive any injury or difficulty. He (Muhammad (peace be upon him)) is anxious over you (to be rightly guided, to repent to Allaah, and beg Him to pardon and forgive your sins, in order that you may enter Paradise and be saved from the punishment of the Hell-fire); for the believers (he peace be upon him is) full of pity, kind, and merciful.”¹

The Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam, also said, “He who does not show mercy [to others] will not be shown mercy.”²

Keeping on talking about this quality in itself will be lengthy, and you are not oblivious of many verses and hadeeths that mention it.

Two: Allaah selected this very quality while praising the Companions of the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam.

The exclusive selection of this character has exceptionally important benefits. It is, in fact, a scientific miracle to describe them with that character. If one reflects deeply, one will realize that miracle.

Why did Allaah mention this characteristic to the exclusion of others?

The answer is: It is to pre-empt false accusations that were not born then and that later to become favourite tales of the story-tellers and those who came after them. And Allaah knows best.

Allaah says,

“Muhammad (peace be upon him) is the Messenger of Allaah. And those who are with him are severe against disbelievers, and merciful among themselves. You see them bowing and falling down

² Reported by al-Bukhaaree and Muslim

*prostrate (in prayer), seeking Bounty from Allaah and (His) Good Pleasure. The mark of them (i.e. of their Faith) is on their faces (foreheads) from the traces of prostration (during prayers)."*¹

Three: The establishment of the fact that the Companions of the Messenger, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam are compassionate among themselves and that this quality of compassion is firm-rooted in their hearts, refutes and rubbishes narrations, whims and tales that portray them as being hostile to one another, and that enmity was the order of the day among them!!

If it is now firmly established in your heart that the Companions are compassionate to one another, you will have peace of mind and whatever misgiving hearts might have harboured against those whom Allaah commanded that we should supplicate for, will be removed. Allaah says,

*"And those who came after them say: "Our Lord! Forgive us and our brethren who have preceded us in Faith, and put not in our hearts any hatred against those who have believed. Our Lord! You are indeed full of kindness, Most Merciful."*²

Four: One of the rules approved by the Muslim researchers is that importance is attached to both the text and the chains of narrators, that studies are carried out on the texts of narrations after the authenticity of the chain has been established and that the narrations should be subjected to the texts of the Qur'aan and the general principles of Islaam. Also, narrations are not studies in isolation, but with other narrations. That is the research methodology followed by the erudite scholars.

Therefore, while studying historical narrations, the above methodology must be followed. But it is very unfortunate that [many] researchers have abandoned the study of chains of narrators and study only the narrations that are in the books of history and literature. And those who showed concern for chains of narrators neglect the texts of the narrations and fail to subject them to the texts of the Qur'aan.

Dear reader, before you start judging others and hastily apportioning blames as a result of your so-called knowledge of history, the information you inherit from your family or out emotional feelings, pause a little bit and read the evidences that I mentioned here. Though these evidences may look unfamiliar in spite of their clarity, simplicity and the strength of its meanings, yet, they have practical reality. Ponder over the following verse which is the last verse of Soorah al-Fat'h:

“Muhammad (peace be upon him) is the Messenger of Allaah. And those who are with him are severe against disbelievers, and merciful among themselves. You see them bowing and falling down prostrate (in prayer), seeking Bounty from Allaah and (His) Good Pleasure. The mark of them (i.e. of their Faith) is on their faces (foreheads) from the traces of prostration (during prayers). This is their description in the Taurât (Torah). But their description in the Injeel (Gospel) is like a (sown) seed which sends forth its shoot, then makes it strong, and then becomes thick and it stands straight on its stem, delighting the sowers, that He may enrage the disbelievers with them. Allaah has promised those among them who believe (i.e. all those who follow Islaamic Monotheism, the religion of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) till the Day of Resurrection) and do righteous good deeds, forgiveness and a mighty reward (i.e. Paradise).¹

Allaah also says,

"And those who came after them say: "Our Lord! Forgive us and our brethren who have preceded us in Faith, and put not in our hearts any hatred against those who have believed. Our Lord! You are indeed full of kindness, Most Merciful."²

So, read the above verses and ponder over their meanings, may Allaah protect you!

Section One: Essence of a Name

Name carries a meaning about its bearer. It is his title by which he is distinguished from others. That has been the people's way. No sane person will doubt the importance of the name, for it is by it that the new born is known and distinguished from his siblings. The name becomes his symbol and that of his children after him. When a man dies his name lives on after him.

In Arabic Language, the word 'ism' [which means name], is derived from the word 'sumuww' that means: highness, or from 'wasm' that means: symbol.

And all this indicates the importance of a name for the newborn.

The importance of a name to the father is very clear. It indicates his religion and wisdom. Or have you ever heard a Christian or a Jew naming his son Muhammad? Or have you ever heard Muslims naming their children allaat or al-'uzza except those who have deviated?

The son is linked to his father through the name, and the father and members of the family call their children with the names they chose for them. The name is then frequently used among members of the family. There an old adage that says: "From your name, I know who your father is."¹

The importance of a name in Islaam:

The importance that the Sharee'ah attached to names is enough an indication of the weight that this issue carries in the religion of Islaam. The Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam changed the names of some of his male and female Companions. He even changed the name of his city that used to be known as 'Yathrib' to 'al-Madeenah'.

He commanded that none should be called 'king of kings' and the like. He said, "The lowliest person in Allaah's estimation is a man who calls himself 'king of kings'."

The beloved Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam then advised that names like 'Abdullaah' and 'Abdur-Rahmaan' should be adopted, for these names show their bearers' affirmation of their servitude to Allaah and that He alone they do worship. The Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam said, "The dearest names to Allaah are: Abdullaah and Abdur-Rahmaan."

The Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam loved nice names and regarded them as good omens. This is known in his guidance, may Allaah bestow peace and blessings upon him and his household!

And it is an established rule in the view of scholars of Islaamic principles of jurisprudence and the linguists that names have their indications and meanings. This topic is extensively discussed in books of linguistics and Islaamic principles of jurisprudence.

Is it reasonable?!

Dear reader, do not be in hurry and do not be surprised. Read on with me and follow the answers with me! What will you name your son? Will you choose for him a name that you, his mother and your family love, or will you name him after your enemies?

So, we choose for ourselves names that have meanings to us and yet we deny the right to do the same to those who are the best of mankind and we put forth for them an illogical rationalization that they chose names of their children for political and social reasons, as opposed to the people's custom?! Choosing of name, we claim, was meaningless to these excellent people??!

The wise men and the leaders of this Ummah, and those who possessed sense of honour concerning themselves and their progeny are denied the least of the human meanings: they are not allowed to name their children after their loved ones and their brethren in faith as a sign of recognition for the latter's excellence and their love for them, and they rather named some of their children after their enemies??!! Is this believable?!!

It needs to be made known that it was not a mere naming of a single individual, but rather of a group of children; and it was not after forgetting a centuries-old hostility. No! The naming rather took place during the peak of hostility – according to their claim. But we say: The naming took place at the peak of love.

This is a very important issue that needs to be studied, because it has very great implications. It includes refutation of tales, whims and illusory stories; and it includes addressing the soul and the sentiments and convincing the people of reason. The issue is, therefore, impossible to be refuted or twisted.

The Real Issue:

'Alee ibn Abee Taalib: It is out of his fervent love for the three caliphs preceding him that he named some of his sons after them. They are:

-Aboo Bakr ibn 'Alee ibn Abee Taalib, who was martyred at Karbalaa along with his brother Husayn, may Allaah bestow peace and blessings upon him and upon their grandfather!

-'Umar ibn 'Alee ibn Abee Taalib, who was also martyred at Karbalaa along with his brother Husayn, may Allaah bestow peace and blessings upon them and upon their grandfather!

-'Uthmaan ibn 'Alee who was also martyred at Karbalaa along with his brother Husayn, May Allaah bestow peace and blessings upon them and upon their grandfather!

-As for al-Hasan ibn 'Alee ibn Abee Taalib, he named his sons with following names: Aboo Bakr ibn al-

Hasan, Umar ibn al-Hasan and Talhah ibn al-Hasan, all of whom fought the battle of Karbalaa on the side of their uncle al-Husayn.

Al-Husayn also named one of his sons after 'Umar.

As for the leader of the Successors, 'Alee ibn al-Husayn popularly known as 'Zaynul-'Aabideen' and the fourth Imaam, he named his daughter 'Aaishah and named his son 'Umar, and he has descendants.¹

There are other members of the Prophet's household from among the descendants of 'Abbaas ibn Abdul-muttalib, Ja'far ibn Abee Taalib, Muslim ibn 'Aqeel and others. Here is not the place to mention all the names. Few examples are enough.

Discussion:

There are some among the Shiites who deny the fact that 'Alee and his sons gave their children these names. This is definitely a saying of those who have no knowledge of lineages and names, and have little knowledge of books. But members of this group are few in number; all praise is due to Allaah.

The leading Shiite scholars and leaders have disproved this because; the proofs for the existence of these names are explicit through the children of those who are so-named and in the light of the approved Shiite sources. Even in narrations about the tragedy of Karbalaa where Imaam al-Husayn ibn

¹ See: Kashf al-ghumma 2/334; al-Fusool al-muhimmah 283. You will also find these names among all the twelve imams. The Shiite scholars have discussed that and made mention of the names. See, for instance: I'laam al-waraa, by at-Tabarsee p.203; al-Irshaad al-mufeed p186 and al-Ya'qoobe in his Taareekh, 2/213

'Alee was martyred, a mention is made of Aboo Bakr ibn 'Alee ibn Abee Taalib, Aboo Bakr ibn al-Hasan ibn 'Alee and others who have been earlier mentioned.

All the above were martyred along with al-Husayn. And the Shiites mentioned this in their books. But do not say that you do not hear these names at Husayniyyaat or in the celebrations of 'Aashooraa. The fact that they are not mentioned on these occasions does not mean that their bearers did not exist. 'Umar ibn 'Alee ibn Abee Taalib and 'Umar ibn al-Hasan were among the renowned and tested cavaliers of that day.

In short, the Shiites have failed to produce a convincing answer as to why those they claim to be their leaders named their children after Aboo Bakr, 'Umar, 'Uthmaan, 'Aaishah and others among other leading Companions of the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam. Therefore, we could not strip names from meanings as we could not regard this fact as something that some Ahlus-Sunnah smuggled into Shiite books. This will mean that all narrations of all the Shiite books are doubtful.

It is a habit of the Shiites to condemn every narration they do not like as smuggled and fake. It is rather a custom of a Shiite scholar to carelessly dismiss every narration that does not match his desire as something that is smuggled into their books; this is more so since every one of their scholars has the privilege to haphazardly accept or reject narrations!!

Don't you think it would be ironically amusing and distressing to hear that these leaders named their children after the earlier-mentioned eminent Companions in order to insult them, or in order to win the hearts of the masses, that Imaam 'Alee gave his children these names to make people believe that he loved the caliphs and that he was pleased with them [i.e. practicing Tuqyah]??!!!

Subhaanallaah! Is it suitable to say that the Imaam engaged in practices in order to deceive his followers and the masses?! And how could the Imaam harm his children by doing this??

Then, who are those the Imaam is trying to win their favour with these names? Surely, his celebrated braveness and sense of honour should definitely prevent him from disgracing himself and his children because of Banoo Taym,¹ or Banoo 'Adiyy² or Banoo Umayyah³!!

The keen student of history of Imaam 'Alee will certainly realize that he was one of the bravest men, as opposed to fabricated narrations that seek to portray him as a coward who could not rise up to defend his religion, honour or dignity. But unfortunately, many are these fake narrations.

It can therefore, be concluded that what the Imaams, 'Alee and his sons did, is one of the strongest logical, psychological and practical proofs of sincere love that members of the Prophet's household had for the righteous guided caliphs and other Companions of the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam. You are also a witness to this indisputable reality. This reality is confirmed by Allaah's word:

³ Mu'aawiyah's clan

*"Muhammad (peace be upon him) is the Messenger of Allaah. And those who are with him are severe against disbelievers, and merciful among themselves. You see them bowing and falling down prostrate (in prayer), seeking Bounty from Allaah and (His) Good Pleasure. The mark of them (i.e. of their Faith) is on their faces (foreheads) from the traces of prostration (during prayers)."*¹

Dear reader, you are advised to read the above verse again and reflect upon its meaning. Then reflect upon the quality of mercy with which Allaah described the Companions in the verse.

Section Two:

Relationship by Marriage

Dear reader, your daughter is a part of you and the fruit of your heart. Whom will you marry her to? Will you be pleased to marry her to a sinful criminal who murdered her mother and her brother? What does the expression, 'My in-law is my kinsman' mean to you?

In-laws are relatives of the wife or husband like fathers, brothers etc. Allaah counted relationship by marriage as one of His signs. He says,

"And it is He Who has created man from water, and has appointed for him kindred by blood, and kindred by marriage. And your Lord is Ever All-Powerful to do what He wills."¹

Have a deep reflection on this verse and see how Allaah makes man related to others through blood and marriage! Relationship by marriage is a connection that Allaah mentions along with blood relationship. Blood relations are the father's relatives, but some scholars believe that it includes both father's and mother's relatives.

So, the fact that Allaah mentions relationship by blood and relationship by marriage together has great meanings that should not be neglected.

Relationship by marriage in history:

Relationship by marriage occupied a special place in the Arab culture. They loved being proud of their lineage, and they love being proud of husbands of their daughters and their positions. The Arabs did not marry their daughters to those they felt were inferior to them. That was the popular practice among them. This practice is also found among other races. Racial segregation is, in fact, seen today as one of the most serious social problems in the West.

The Arabs were very protective of their womenfolk, and this led some of them to burry their female babies alive in apprehension of shame. Blood are shed and wars are started because of this. Effects of this still exist up to our contemporary age, as it is clear to the dear reader.

Relationship by marriage in Islaam:

Islaam and established the sublime qualities. It enjoined commendable traits and forbade the repulsive ones. Allaah explains that what counts in His estimation is nothing but piety. He says,

“Verily, the most honourable of you with Allaah is that (believer) who has At-piety.”¹

Then you find the Islaamic Jurists extensively researching the issue of compatibility as far as religion, lineage, profession and other related matters are concerned. Among issues raised in this research are: Is compatibility a condition for the validity or effectiveness of a marriage? Is compatibility the exclusive right of the wife or it is a right shared by her guardians as well? There are other topics that came up in their research concerning marriage.

Concerning the issue of protecting the dignity and having sense of honour concerning the women, the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam regarded a man who is killed in defence of his honour as a martyr. He, himself, has in fact, led a war against the Jews when they stripped a Muslim woman of her cover. The story of the Jewish clan of Banoo Qaynuqaa who violated their covenant with the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam is well-known.

The story, in brief, goes thus: A Jew requested from a Muslim girl, from whom he wanted to buy gold, to reveal her face which she refused to do. He then tied the edge of her dress while she was sitting down. When she rose up to go, her nakedness was revealed. She screamed for help and a Muslim youth nearby came to her help, killing the vicious Jew. The Jews then assembled and killed the young man. It is this incidence and other misdeeds of theirs that indicated their violation of their covenant with the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam that led to that war.

Dear reader, ponder over Islaamic rules like the necessity of the guardian's approval and availability of witnesses in validity of marriage, the prescribed punishment for falsely accusing someone of adultery and the prescribed punishment for committing adultery and fornication and other rules whose goals is to protect the honour. In the course of reflecting upon these rules, their wisdom and benefits and the wonderful legislations they entail, you will realize the importance of this topic.

Relationship by marriage leads to many rules. Ponder over the legislation of marriage contract which is described in the Qur'aan as a 'solemn covenant'. The man comes forward to make marriage proposal, which has its rules, and his proposal may be accepted or rejected; the suitor seeks the help of his family and friends in order to have his proposal accepted; and the family and guardians of the woman ask about the suitor whom they have the right to accept or reject. Even if the suitor has presented gifts to the woman and hastily paid the bridal money [mahr], they still have the right to reject him as long as the marriage contract has not yet been made.

In contracting marriage, there should be witnesses. Announcing the marriage is also a matter requested by Islaam, why? Because of rules that result from the marriage like bringing alien persons closer and turning them into relatives through marriage, and making some women permanently forbidden for the husband to marry because of the marriage, or temporarily forbidden for him as long as he is married to his present wife. The topic of this treatise will not allow us to elucidate further, we only want to remind ourselves of the importance of the issue. Then reflect upon the following:

Example One: The sister of al-Hasan and al-Husayn: her father 'Alee ibn 'Abee Taalib married her to 'Umar ibn al-Khattab. Are we then going to say that 'Alee married his daughter to 'Umar out of his fear for him?! If it is so, where then is his braveness? Where is his love for his daughter? Is it reasonable to say that he married his daughter to a tyrant?? If that is so, where then is his sense of honour for the religion of Allaah?? Many endless questions.....!

Or shall we say that 'Alee married his daughter to 'Umar out of his love for him and his belief in him? Exactly! 'Umar married 'Alee's daughter in a legal, valid Islaamic marriage that was free of any blemish.¹

This marriage was also an expression of contact and love that existed between the two families. Why not? The Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam was married to 'Umar's daughter! The marriage relationship, therefore, existed between the two families even before 'Umar married Umm Kulthoom, 'Alee's daughter.

Example Two: It is enough to quote the saying of Imaam Ja'far as-Saadiq that goes thus: "I am born by Aboo Bakr twice." Do you know who Ja'far's mother is? She is Farwah bint al-Qaasim ibn Muhammad ibn Aboo Bakr!²

¹ I'll later mention quotations from Shiite scholars in confirmation of this and in refutation of false accusations that claim otherwise.

² And her mother is Asmaa bint Abdur-Rahmaan ibn Aboo Bakr. See: 'Umdah at-taalibeen, p195, Tehran; and al-Kaafee, 1/472

Dear wise reader, why did Ja'far say 'Aboo Bakr' and did not say, 'Muhammad ibn Aboo Bakr'? He deliberately and clearly mentioned the name of Aboo Bakr because the Shiites did not acknowledge his excellence and superiority, but they unanimously acknowledged the excellence of his son Muhammad! Now tell me, of whom does a person feel proud??

Dear reader, intermingling of the lineages of the Companions, the Emigrants and the Helpers, is something known to those who are conversant with their lineages. Even the freed slaves among them married into prominent and noble families of Quraysh. Zayd ibn Haarithah, who was the only Companion who had his name mentioned in the Qur'aan in Soorah al-Ahzaab, was married to whom? He was married to Zaynab bint Jahsh who was later to become a mother of the believers!

The Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam married Faatimah bint Qays, who is from Quraysh, to Usaamah ibn Zayd, the son of his freed-slave. There was another Companion known as Saalim, who was also a freed-slave, Aboo Hudhayfah, married to him his neice, Hind bint al-Waleed ibn 'Utbah ibn Rabee'ah, and her father was one of the leaders of Quraysh.

There are many other examples of established marriage relationships among the Companions. I am going to mention here only few examples of marriages that took place between members of the Prophet's household and the righteous predecessors:

Do you know that 'Umar married the daughter of Faatimah, who was the Prophet's daughter?

And Ja'far's mother has been mentioned earlier. Then who is Ja'far's grandmother? His grandmother was Aboo Bakr's daughter while his mother was Aboo Bakr's granddaughter.

Dear reader, shun the whispers of Satan and think seriously and deeply. You are a Muslim and the status of intelligence with which Allaah endowed you is not unclear to you. Also, the verses in which Allaah enjoins reflection and thinking are many.

Therefore, we have to think and use our common sense. We have to shun blind imitation. We should not allow the people of falsehood to play upon our intelligence. We seek Allaah's protection against the devils among men and jinn.

Dear reader, will you be pleased if your father and grandfathers are insulted and if you are told that the leader among your womenfolk married in spite of the opposition of your entire clan? Do you like some people to say about a female member of your family: 'That is a woman that we ravished'?

Is there any mind that could accept this nonsense or is there any heart that could be pleased with this tale?

We beseech Allaah to put not in our hearts any resentment towards those who have believed! O Allaah, grant us the love of the righteous among your servants! Accept our supplications, O Lord of all the worlds!

Before we proceed to the section three, the following are some quotations from approved Shiite books and from their recognized scholars that affirmed Umm Kulthoom's marriage to 'Umar.

The renowned historian and genealogist, Imam Safiyyud-deen Muhammad ibn Taajud-deen known as Ibn Taqtaqee al-Hasanee d.709 A.H, in page 58 of his book which he dedicated to Aseelud-deen Hasan ibn Naseerud-deen at-Toosee, the companion of [Mongolian emperor] Hulagu, mentioned the names of daughters of the commander of the faithful, 'Alee ibn Aboo Taalib and said: "And Umm Kulthoom; her mother was Faatimah, the Prophet's daughter. Umar ibn al-Khattaab married her and he had by her a son named Zayd. And after the death of 'Umar, 'Abdullaah ibn Ja'far married her."

The editor of the book, Sayyid Mahdee ar-Rajaa'ee mentioned quotations among which is the saying of the erudite Shiite scholar, Aboo al-Hasan al-'Umaree – descendant of 'Umar ibn 'Alee ibn al-Husayn – in his book 'al-Majdee': "The reliable narration is what we have seen earlier that it was 'Abbaas who married her [i.e. Umm Kulthoom] to her husband 'Umar with the consent of her father, 'Alee; and she bore 'Umar a son named Zayd."

He also mentioned other views concerning 'Umm Kulthoom's marriage to 'Umar. Among these views are: The one whom 'Umar married was a female devil; or that he did not consummate the marriage with her or that he married her forcibly, among other incorrect views.

Another erudite Shiite scholar, al-Majlisee said, "So was al-Mufeed's denial of the incidence ['Umm Kulthoom's marriage to 'Umar] in its entirety. This is an indication that the narrations affirming that are not regarded as authentic in their own estimation. For, after the quotation of those narrations and others that will soon come with their chains of narrators that when 'Umar died, 'Alee ibn Aboo Taalib visited Umm Kulthoom and took her to his house, among other things that are mentioned in the book, 'Bihaar al-anwaar', the afore-mentioned denial is indeed strange. The correct justification that can be made for this marriage is that it took place out of Tuqyah [dissimilation] and necessity."¹

My response to the above is: The author of al-Kaafee had mentioned a number of hadeeths in his book on the rule concerning a woman whose husband has died, as to where she is to observe the period of waiting and other things that are incumbent on her. He quoted a hadeeth with his chain of narrators that Abu Abdullaah was asked concerning the woman whose husband has just died, as to whether she should observe her period of waiting in her house or wherever she likes? He answered that she could observe it wherever she likes, for when 'Umar, Umm Kulthoom's husband died, her father 'Alee visited her and took her to his house.²

Dear reader, I have discussed the marriage with some contemporary Shiite scholars, and among the most beautiful responses is the one penned down by the judge of the Court of Awqaaf and Inheritance Affairs, Shaykh Abdul-Hameed al-Khattee. He wrote: "As for Imaam 'Alee's giving the hand of his daughter, Umm Kulthoom in marriage to 'Umar, there is no disagreement in that. In fact, he had a good model in the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam in this, and the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam is the exemplar per excellence for every Muslim. He married Umm Habeebah, daughter of Aboo Sufyaan, and Aboo Sufyaan was far below 'Umar in status. Therefore, all the doubts being raised concerning the marriage of Umm Kulthoom to 'Umar are absolutely unjustifiable.

As for your argument that it was a devil who showed itself to 'Umar in the form of Umm Kulthoom, this is paradoxically amusing and saddening. It is an argument that deserves no consideration whatsoever. If we have to continue mentioning similar lies and fabrications, we will surely see lots of them that are ironically amusing and distressing."

But the Shaykh did not make mention of the essence of that marriage relationship, the role it played in strengthening family ties, that it took place with the satisfaction of all the parties concerned and that it fostered love, brotherhood and harmony among the in-laws.

Dear reader, you are not unaware of the clear difference that is in the marriage of a Muslim man to a Jewish or Christian woman. This is permissible. But the opposite is not.

In nutshell, marriage relationship among the Companions of the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam is clear, especially, between the children of the Imaam 'Alee ibn Aboo Taalib and the children of the other righteous predecessors. Equally clear are the well-known marriage relationships that took place between members of Bani Umayyah and Bani Haashim clans before and after the advent of Islaam. The most celebrated of this is the marriage of the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam to the daughter of Aboo Sufyaan.¹

The bottom line here is to point to some psychological and social benefits of relationship by marriage, the greatest of which is the mutual love that exists between the two families. There are many other benefits, and the mentioned ones should be enough an example. All success belongs to Allaah.

Section Three

Evidence of Praise

Dear reader, have you ever lived in a strange land in a company and far away from your family, tribe and your village? How were those years of exile? Did you live in a military barrack among strange people or among your friends?

Dear reader, did you live in poverty and persecution along with your companions with whom you share the same religion that combines between reason and passion? What is your view about those who had all the above experiences and were all friends and companions in times of ease and hardship, and in the company of whom was the best of mankind, Muhammad, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam?

The Prophet's Companions, especially the earliest ones, had all the above experiences. Their social life was different, with its special characteristics. Anyone who studies the Seerah or has even a simple knowledge about the life of the beloved Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam knows this.

Dear reader, I believe that in the course of your reading of these pages, you are travelling with me into the annals of history, when the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam was in the House of Arqam calling unto the religion of Allaah secretly. Then after Islaam became manifest there, his noble Companions migrated to the strange land of Abyssinia, and then to al-Madeenah, leaving behind their families, properties and homeland.

Imagine how their situations would be in long and torturous journeys made on the backs of camels and, in many cases, on foot. They all lived a life of fear and siege while in al-Madeenah during the Battle of Trench. They passed through deserts and desolate lands in the Battle of Tabook, experienced victories in the Battle of Badr, Trench, Khaybar, Hunayn, and before all that, they entered Makkah victoriously and gallantly.

Just reflect over psychological impacts of all this. Imagine how much they would love one another. Do not forget that the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam was with them. For, he was their leader, nurturer and teacher. Also remember that the Qur'aan was being revealed from the Lord of the heavens and the earth to the leader of this group, Muhammad, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam.

Ponder again over the situation of these people: Their hearts were in unity and harmony in their belief in and love for the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam. He taught them and lived with them while the Qur'aan was being revealed. Reflect over those days and stances. Much has been said about this in the first part of these series [Companion with the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam].

There is no doubt that mutual love and affection were prevalent among the Companions of the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam. Allaah testifies to this when He says,

“And remember Allaah’s Favour on you, for you were enemies one to another but He joined your hearts together, so that, by His Grace, you became brethren (in Islaamic Faith).”¹

Please, take a second look at the meaning of the above verse: A testimony from Allaah for the Companions of His Messenger, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam that it was He Who ‘joined your hearts together’. This is Allaah’s favour upon the Companions of His Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam, and no one can prevent His favour!

Yes, there was a fiery enmity between the tribes of Aws and al-Khazraj, but Allaah removed that enmity and replaced it with love and harmony.

Dear reader, it brings you no harm to believe in this and to have a good opinion of the Companions of the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam. Their Lord has attested to their excellence and reminded them of His favour upon them by making them brethren with pure hearts in which mutual love and harmony were deeply entrenched. What counts is the general application of the text and not a particular case. A proof in support of this rule is the saying of Allaah,

“And if they intend to deceive you, then verily, Allaah is All-Sufficient for you. He it is Who has supported you with His Help and with the believers. And He has united their (i.e. believers’) hearts. If you had spent all that is in the earth, you could not have united their hearts, but Allaah has united them. Certainly He is All-Mighty, All-Wise."¹

Dear reader, ponder over the above verses and read them again and again. Allaah reminds His Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam, that it was He Who blessed him with Victory and with the believers. What concerns us more here is the fact that if the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam had spent all the wealth of this world, he would not have been able to join his Companions' hearts together. So, the favour here belongs to Allaah.

In spite of this, some people still deny this fact and can't help but disagree with the clear verses of the Qur'aan and claim that enmity what was prevalent among the Prophet's Companions!!

The Almighty Allaah informs us that He joined their hearts together, united them, made them brethren and made them compassionate among themselves. Yet, tales and false narrations are still being repeated that hostilities were rife among them!!

There are many verses – some quoted above – in which the Companions are praised and in which their qualities and actions were mentioned and commended. One of these qualities is their altruism that was a product of the mutual love that existed among them. Allaah, the Exalted says,

"(And there is also a share in this booty) for the poor emigrants, who were expelled from their homes and their property, seeking Bounties from Allaah and to please Him, and helping Allaah (i.e. helping His religion) and His Messenger (Muhammad (peace be upon him)) Such are indeed the truthful (to what they say). And (it is also for) those who, before them, had homes (in Al-Madeenah) and had adopted the Faith, love those who emigrate to them, and have no jealousy in their breasts for that which they have been given (from the booty of Baní An-Nadír), and give them (emigrants) preference over themselves even though they were in need of that. And whosoever is saved from his own covetousness, such are they who will be the successful.”¹

There are many other verses with this meaning. The one we quoted above is just an example of verses that indicate the Companions’ love for one another and that this love is deep-rooted in their hearts.

As you can clearly see, there are many verses from the Qur’aan on the qualities of altruism, brotherhood, friendship and harmony that affirm the quality of love. There are a number of explicit Qur’aanic texts on this. Look at the above verses, you will realize the affirmation of the love that the Helpers had for their Emigrant brethren, also ponder over the last verse of Soorah al-Fat’h.

Here is a story that ‘Alee al-Arbilee narrated in his book, Kashf al-Ghummah,² from Imam ‘Alee ibn al-Husayn, may Allaah be pleased with them. He wrote:

“A group of people came to the Imam from Iraq and spoke ill of Aboo Bakr, ‘Umar and ‘Uthmaan in his presence. When they finished he asked them, 'Tell me, are you the earliest Emigrants about whom Allaah says,

*'who were expelled from their homes and their property, seeking Bounties from Allaah and to please Him, and helping Allaah (i.e. helping His religion) and His Messenger (Muhammad (peace be upon him)) Such are indeed the truthful (to what they say)'*¹?

They said: 'No.' He then asked them: 'Are you the Helpers, about whom Allaah says,

*'those who, before them, had homes (in Al-Madeenah) and had adopted the Faith, love those who emigrate to them, and have no jealousy in their breasts for that which they have been given (from the booty of Banî An-Nadîr), and give them (emigrants) preference over themselves even though they were in need of that'*²?

They answered in the negative. He then said: 'Since you have denied being among either of the two groups, I bear testimony that you are certainly not among those about whom Allaah says,

*And those who came after them say: "Our Lord! Forgive us and our brethren who have preceded us in Faith, and put not in our hearts any hatred against those who have believed. Our Lord! You are indeed full of kindness, Most Merciful."*³

² Al-Hashr 59:9

³ Al-Hashr 59:10

He then told them: 'Go out of here! May Allaah punish you.'

The above is the view of Zain al-'Aabideen, 'Alee ibn al-Husayn, who was one of the Taabi'een [the successors of the Prophet's Companions]. The books authored by the Sunnis and the Shiites are full of the Taabi 'een praising one another. The reader of the book, Nahj al-Balaaghah will find there many speeches and explicit indications, all praising the Companions of the Messenger of Allaah. I just chose the above example because it contains some excerpts from the Noble Qur'aan.

Imam 'Alee said, "I saw the Companions of Muhammad, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam and none of you is like them. They would wake up in the morning with dishevelled hairs, and covered with dust after they have passed the night in prostration and standing in voluntary prayer. They would alternate positions between prayer and sleep and would stand as if they were on a life coal out of fear for the Day of Return. They looked as if they were in a condolence procession out of long prostration. Whenever the Allaah is mentioned in their presence, their eyes shed so much tears that their garments became wet, and they would they shake like a tree violently shaken by a storming wind out fear of Allaah's chastisement and in desire for His reward."

There are many more examples of his praise for the Prophet's Companions. His grandson, Zain al-'Aabideen, has a treatise in which he supplicated for the Companions and praised them. And you will find that each of the Imams has many sayings in which they praised the Companions. There are even many narrations in which they are reported to have explicitly praised the Rightly Guided Caliphs, Mothers of the Faithful and others. If these narrations are compiled together they will make volumes.

Dear reader, I have said much though my intention was to be brief. Please, pardon me. I beseech Allaah to benefit you and me with all the above. But the whole truth must be said. The treatise is coming to an end, so I hope you will bear it with me a little more.

There is a need to have a short study of the stand of Ahlus-Sunnah concerning the members of the Prophet's Household in order to show you that, as they were very enthusiastic about upholding the Sunnah and practicing the Qur'aanic teachings, as they were also very passionate in their love for the members of the Prophet's Household. This issue, however, needs an independent study.

With all the above, it is very clear that all the Companions were compassionate among themselves, and among them are the Prophet's relatives and wives. The following is an elucidation on some of their rights, as confirmed by the scholars of Ahlus-Sunnah, may Allaah have mercy on them.

Ahlu-Sunnah's Stand Regarding Members of the Prophet's Household

Who are Members of the Prophet's Household?

There are divergent opinions among the scholars regarding who are members of the Prophet's Household. The most prominent views are the following:

1. They are those for whom taking of Saqadah [alms or charity] is forbidden. This is the opinion of the majority of the scholars.
2. They are the Prophet's offspring and his wives. This is the choice of Ibn al-'Arabee that he supported in his book, Ahkaam al-Qur'aan. There are others who supported this opinion but exclude the Prophet's wives.
3. They are all those who follow the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam till the Day of Resurrection. This opinion is supported by Imaam an-Nawawee in his comments upon Saheeh Muslim. It is also the view of the author of al-Insaaf. However, there are those who restrict and limit it to only the pious and the righteous ones among the Prophet's followers.

Who are those for whom taking of sadaqah is forbidden?

They are the descendants of Haashim and the children of al-Muttalib. This is the most preponderant opinion. It is the opinion of the majority of the scholars. There are some among them who believe that they are only the descendants of Haashim.

But the in the view of the Twelver Shiites [the Imaamiyyah], members of the Prophet's Household are only the twelve Imams, to the exclusion of others. They have some explanations that could not be mentioned here because there is a great dissention among their sects on this issue; and it is in fact, the cause of the dissentions.¹

Belief of Ahlus-Sunnah Concerning the Prophet's Household

You will hardly find a comprehensive book on Islaamic creed in which there is no explicit mention of this issue because of its importance. Even, scholars have written books exclusively on this topic.

The summary of the belief of Ahlus-Sunnah concerning the Prophet's Household is what Ibn Taymiyyah affirmed in his booklet, al-'Aqeedah al-Waasitiyyah. Though the booklet is very concise, he wrote:

"And they [the Ahlus-Sunnah] love members of the Household of the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam and ally themselves with them. They preserve, regarding them, the Prophet's admonition that he made on the day of Ghadeer Khum when he said, 'I remind you of Allaah concerning members of my household, I remind you of Allaah concerning

members of my household!’¹ The Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam told Abbaas, his uncle who complained to him that some members of Quraysh disrespected Banoo Haashim: ‘By Him in Whose Hand is my soul, they are not [true] believers until they love you for the sake of Allaah and for your kinship with me.’² He also said: ‘Allaah selected the children of Ismaa’eel, and selected Banoo Kinaanah from the children of Ismaa’eel, and selected the Quraysh from Banoo Kinaanah, and selected Banoo Haashim from Quraysh and selected me from Banoo Haashim.’³

I will stop by the above quotation from an erudite Imaam whom many Shiites see as one of their most avowed enemies, because of his book, Minhaaj as-Sunnah, which he wrote to refute the falsehood of Ibn al-Mutahhir al-Haliyy.

Rights of Members of the Prophet’s Household are as follows in detail:

One: Right to be loved and befriended:

Dear reader, it is not unknown to you that it is incumbent upon the Muslim to love every believing man and woman. As for what is mentioned above of the love for members of the Prophet’s Household and being their allies, that is a special love that no one shares with them, because of the Prophet's saying: 'and for being my relatives'.

¹ This hadeeth is reported by Muslim and others. See: Muslim, Book of Virtues of the Companions: Virtues of ‘Alee, 4/1873, hadeeth 2407

² Reported by Ahmad; the editor of Musnad made a lengthy discussion of its authenticity or otherwise. But the point is the meaning is correct, because it is supported by the Qur’aan.

³ Reported by Muslim

As for the first that is for the sake of Allaah, it is Islaamic brotherhood and having friendship in faith. This is a right of the generality of the Muslims. For, the Muslim is a brother of his fellow Muslim. Therefore, this friendship applies to all Muslims including members of the Prophet's Household. In addition to this, the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam has granted his relatives a special love because of their kinship with him. Allaah says,

*Say (O Muhammad (peace be upon him)) "No reward do I ask of you for this except to be kind to me for my kinship with you."*¹

This is the meaning of the hadeeth quoted above, according to the correct interpretation of this verse. For, there are some among the exegetes of the Qur'aan who interpret the verse as meaning: 'you should love me because of my kinship with you', because the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam shared kinship with all Quraysh clans.

The point is that loving the Prophet's relatives, showing friendship towards them and respecting them for their kinship with him is an established fact, and it is different from the show of friendship that applies to the generality of the Muslims.

Two: Rights to have blessing invoked upon them:

Allaah says,

“Indeed, Allaah confers blessing upon the Prophet, and His Angels [ask Him to do so]. O you who believe, ask [Allaah to confer] blessing upon him and [ask Allaah to grant him] peace.”¹

Muslim reported on the authority of Aboo Mas’ood al-Ansaaree who said: “We were sitting in the company of Sa’d ibn Ubaadah when the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam came to us. Bishr ibn S’ad said: Allaah has commanded us to invoke blessing upon you, Messenger of Allah! But how should we do so?’ Aboo Mas’ood said: The Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam kept quiet that we wished he had not asked him. He [The Prophet] then said: (For invoking blessing upon me) say:” O Allaah, bless Muhammad and the members of his household as Thou didst bless the members of Ibraaheem’s household. Grant favours to Muhammad and the members of his household as Thou didst grant favours to the members of the household of Ibraaheem in the world. Thou art indeed Praiseworthy and Glorious”; and salutation is as you know.”²

There is a similar hadeeth reported by al-Bukhaaree and Muslim on the authority of Aboo Humaid as-Saa’idee.

There are many hadeeths in this regard. Ibn al-Qayyim said: “It is their [the Prophet’s Household] right. And there is no disagreement among the scholars on this.”¹ This is in regard to the format known as as-Salaah al-Ibraaheemiyyah.

² Reported by Muslim

Three: Right to the fifth of the war booty: This is in accordance with Allaah’s injunction,

*“And know that whatever of war-booty that you may gain, verily one-fifth (/5th) of it is assigned to Allaah, and to the Messenger, and to the near relatives (of the Messenger (Muhammad (peace be upon him))) (and also) the orphans, Al-Masâkin (the poor) and the wayfarer.”*²

There are also many hadeeths in this regard. This share is exclusive for members of the Prophet’s Household. This is an established right for them, even after the Prophet’s death. This is the opinion of the majority of the scholars, and it is the correct opinion.³

An Important Point

Members of the Prophet’s Household have many rights. The above-mentioned are just the most important of these rights. These are rights of all those, whose Islaam and kinship to the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam are authentically established. They must also be of righteous deeds.

The Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam used to warn against reliance on lineage. He said, in his famous address while he was in

³ See: al-Mughnee 9:288, and a short treatise by Ibn Taymiyyah regarding rights of members of the Prophet’s Household.

Makkah, "O people of Quraysh! Buy (i.e. save) yourselves (from the Hellfire) as I cannot save you from Allaah's Punishment; O Banees Abd Manaaf! I cannot save you from Allaah's Punishment, O Safiyyah bint Abdul-muttalib! I cannot save you from Allaah's Punishment; O Faatimah bint Muhammad! Ask me anything from my wealth, but I cannot save you from Allaah's Punishment."¹

And what happened to Aboo Lahab is known to all. We ask Allaah to protect us against the Fire.

Stand of Ahlus-Sunnah against the Nawaasib [the haters of 'Alee and members of the Prophet's Household]:

To complete the discussion on the position members of the Prophet's Household occupy in the sight of Ahlus-Sunnah, we deem it fit to add their stand against the Nawaasib.

An-Nawaasib, an-Naasibah and Ahl an-Nasb are designations given to those who believed that it is an act of religiosity to hate 'Alee and show hostility to him. This is the origin of this erroneous belief. And by extension, he who hates members of the Prophet's Household is one of the Nawaasib.

Dear reader, sayings of the scholars of Islaam are explicit and clear in their praise for Imaam 'Alee and his children. Our belief is that 'Alee, al-Hasan and al-Husayn are among the dwellers of blissful Paradise. This is clear, and all praise is due to Allaah.

Here, I am going to point to the stand of Ahlus-Sunnah against the Nawaasib and their renunciation of their vicious ideology. This is very important given that it is one the causes of dissention among the Ummah. There is a group of opportunists who benefits from this dissention. This group talks of what could cause bad blood and increase dissentions among the Muslims whenever they have the chance to do so, and even if they do not get the chance. With their speeches, they stir fire of rancour, though what they say is false and absolute lie.

When one of them talks, he accuses the Ahlus-Sunnah of hating 'Alee and his sons, and freely fabricates lies. The best that can be said of his situations is that he repeats and parrots false and imaginary tales and stories about how much the Ahlus-Sunnah hate Imaam 'Alee.

On the contrary, the Ahlus-Sunnah narrate many hadeeths on 'Alee's virtues. You will hardly find a book of hadeeth in which virtues of Imaam 'Alee and his noble qualities are not mentioned.

Dear reader, the opinion of Ahlus-Sunnah about the Nawaasib is very clear. It is enough to quote the saying of Shayk al-Islaam Ibn Taymiyyah whom the Shiites see as one of their most avowed enemies because he was the one who wrote the biggest Sunni book in refutation of the Shiites.

He said:

"Insulting 'Alee and cursing him is a transgression that won a faction the unenviable title of: 'the Transgressing Group'. Al-Bukhaaree reported on the authority of Khaalid al-Hadhdhaa from 'Ikrimah who narrated: "Ibn 'Abbaas said to me and to his son 'Ali, "Go to Abu Sa'eed and listen to what he narrates." So we went and found him in a garden looking after it. He picked up his garment, wore it and sat down and started narrating till the topic of the construction of the mosque came up. He said, "We were carrying one adobe at a time while 'Ammaar was carrying two. The Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam saw him and started removing the dust from his body and said, "May Allaah be Merciful to 'Ammar. The transgressing group¹ will kill him. He will be inviting them (i.e. his murderers, the rebellious group) to Paradise and they will invite him to Hell-fire." 'Ammar said, "I seek refuge with Allah from affliction."

Muslim reported on the authority of Aboo Sa'eed who said: "The one who is better than me, Aboo Qataadah, informed me that the Messenger of Allaah, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam told 'Ammar while the latter was digging the trench and he [the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam] was wiping his hand on 'Ammar's head saying: "Poor Sumayyah's son, he will be killed by the transgressing group."

He also reported on the authority of Umm Salamah that the Prophet, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam said: "'Ammar will be killed by the transgressing group."

This is also a proof of validity of Imaam 'Alee's leadership and the obligation of obeying him, and that those who call unto obeying him are callers unto Paradise and that those who invite people to fight him are callers to Hell, even if they have rationalisations. It is also a proof that it was not permissible to fight 'Alee.

Therefore, those who fought him were upon error, even if they had their rationalization or transgressors if they did not have any rationalization. This is the more correct of the two opinions of our scholars on this issue: to regard those who fought 'Alee as being upon error. It is also the opinion of the leading jurists who created, from this issue, a sub-topic about waging war against the rationalising transgressors.¹

Then ponder over the following saying of Ibn Taymiyyah. He said, after discussing extensively Ahlus-Sunnah's sayings concerning Yazeed ibn Mu'aawiyah and explaining people's differences regarding him:

"As for those who killed al-Husayn, helped in his murder or is pleased with the same, may the curse of Allaah, and the curse of the Angels and all mankind be upon them."²

This is the word of one of the most prominent scholars of the Salaf!!

Is it then possible for a speaker or a pretender to accuse Ahlus-Sunnah and claim that they are Nawaasib?!!

Dear brother, many questions might have arisen in your mind concerning what you have read in this treatise and what is historically authentic of the battles of Siffeen and Jamal that took place among the companions. In this conflict, most of the companions were on the side of 'Alee and members of the Prophet's Household who were with him. This is a topic that needs to be discussed in a separate treatise. I ask Allaah to help me produce it, so the truth of the issue will be made manifest.

² Majmoo' al-Fataawaa, 4/487

Nevertheless, I remind you and myself of the following Words of Allaah:

“And if two parties or groups among the believers fall to fighting, then make peace between them both. But if one of them outrages against the other, then fight you (all) against the one that which outrages till it complies with the Command of Allaah. Then if it complies, then make reconciliation between them justly, and be equitable. Verily! Allaah loves those who are equitable. The believers are nothing else than brothers (in Islaamic religion). So make reconciliation between your brothers, and fear Allaah, that you may receive mercy.”¹

In these verses, Allaah affirms faith for all them, though there was an in-fighting among them. The verses do not need any elucidation for they are clear and self-explanatory. All of the Companions were believers, even though there was a conflict among them.

Allaah also says,

“But whoever overlooks from his brother [i.e. the killer] anything, then there should be a suitable follow-up.”²

This verse is about premeditated murder, yet Allaah affirms the Islaamic brotherhood between the killer and the relatives of the killed. Therefore, the heinous crime of killing, for which Allaah prescribed a severe punishment, does not remove the killer from the fold of faith, for he and the relatives of the one he killed are still regarded as brethren in faith. Allaah says,

*"The believers are nothing else than brothers."*¹

Conclusion

Dear brother, all praise is due to Allaah, Who bestowed His favour upon us with the love of the Prophet, peace and blessings be upon him and upon his pure family and righteous Companions.

Dear brother, after we have spent some time with the pure members of the Prophet's Household and his righteous Companions; and after we have realized their mutual compassion, and the family and marriage relationships that existed among them, and their mutual love and brotherhood, and the unity of their hearts which Allaah mentioned in the Qur'aan, we then need to fervently beseech Allaah, Lord of all the worlds, to make us succeed in deeds that He loves and is Pleased with, and to include us among those about whom He says in His Glorious Book:

"And those who came after them say: "Our Lord! Forgive us and our brethren who have preceded us in Faith, and put not in our hearts any hatred against those who have believed. Our Lord! You are indeed full of kindness, Most Merciful."

According to Imaam Zain al-'Aabideen, "A group of people came to the Imam from Iraq and spoke ill of Aboo Bakr, 'Umar and 'Uthmaan in his presence. When they finished he asked them, 'Tell me, are you the earliest Emigrants about whom Allaah says,

'who were expelled from their homes and their property, seeking Bounties from Allaah and to please Him, and helping Allaah (i.e. helping His religion) and His Messenger (Muhammad (peace be upon him)) Such are indeed the truthful (to what they say)'¹?

They said: 'No.' He then asked them: 'Are you the Helpers, about whom Allaah says,

'those who, before them, had homes (in Al-Madeenah) and had adopted the Faith, love those who emigrate to them, and have no jealousy in their breasts for that which they have been given (from the booty of Banî An-Nadîr), and give them (emigrants) preference over themselves even though they were in need of that'²?

They answered in the negative. He then said: 'Since you have denied being among either of the two groups, I bear testimony that you are certainly not among those about whom Allaah says,

And those who came after them say: "Our Lord! Forgive us and our brethren who have preceded us in Faith, and put not in our hearts any hatred against those who have believed. Our Lord! You are indeed full of kindness, Most Merciful."³

However manifest the evidences may be, man still needs the help of his Lord. It is a known fact that Allaah supported His Messenger, sallallaahu alayhi wasallam with astounding miracles, and with the Noble Qur'aan He described as a Clear Light. In spite of the Prophet's excellent manners and eloquence, and in spite of his truthfulness and handsome physical appearance and the fact that he was known to the people of Makkah since his childhood, in spite of all this, many of the Makkans remained upon their disbelief until the victory finally came.

We should therefore make efforts in our supplications and in asking Allaah for success and steadfastness upon the truth and following it wherever it may be. For, guidance comes only from Allaah.

Dear brother, remember that you will be asked and held accountable for all that Allaah commands you to do. Do not give preference to the word of any human over the Word of Allaah, High and Exalted is He. He revealed the Qur'aan to you with the clear Arabic tongue. He made it guidance and healing for the believers, and made others fail to realize this guidance. He says,

"Say: It [the Qur'aan] is for those who believe, a guide and a healing. And as for those who disbelieve, there is heaviness (deafness) in their ears, and it (the Qur'aan) is blindness for them. They are those *who are called from a place far away (so they neither listen nor understand)."*¹

Follow then the guidance of the Qur'aan, may Allaah make you succeed!

Dear blessed brother, reckoning of the mankind is with Allaah alone. No human being has right to that. The righteous can only make intercession – with its conditions – on behalf of the people. We should therefore, refrain from acting presumptuously towards Allaah and judging His servants.

It does not do us any harm to love members of the Prophet's Household and the rest of his Companions. That is what corresponds with the texts of the Qur'aan and the authentic narrations of the Sunnah.

Finally, we should strive in beseeching Allaah to remove from our hearts whatever hatred we have for them, to show us the truth and to help us to overcome our souls and the Satan. Allaah is the Master of that and He is One Capable of doing so.

Allaah knows best.

May Allaah bestow peace and blessing upon our Prophet Muhammad and upon his Household and Companions.
